What is a “Layout Plan”?

It is a layout of the sequence or order as to how you want your files or prints to be viewed by the judges.

eg: You have 15 images which are in digital files and you would like certain files to precede others. So you can name your files with a Number in front of the file so that it can be sorted out as the sequence or order you desire like:

1. 01_YourName_fileName.jpg
2. 02_YourName_fileName.jpg and so on

fileName is the subject for APSP or title as for FPSP as from the above

1. 01_yourName_Nature.jpg
2. 02_yourName_CloseUp.jpgand so on until the last file.

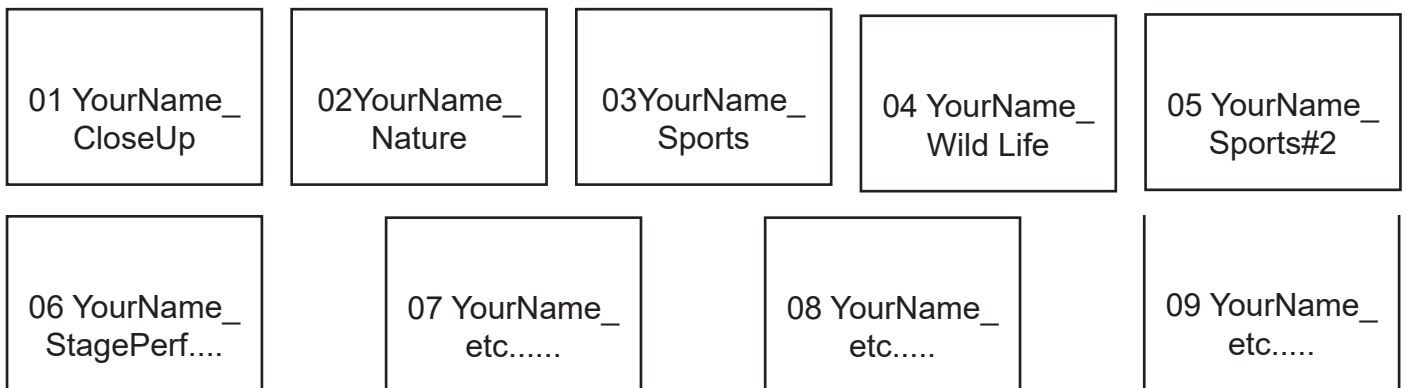

As for prints:

You might have written your name and and subject for APSP ranging from Architecture to Stage Performances. You can have Stage Performance as the first print followed by Nature and Close Up or any order you wish in either 2 or 3 rows.

or in the case of FPSP every photo has a title of the photo essay you are presenting. You can add a number before the title which will be the order of the photo to be viewed and add a layout plan as to which numbers are to be in the first row, the second row and if you wish the third row.
